

I believe the FCC must retain strong media ownership limits to protect a diverse, competitive, and locally identified media. The Newspaper/Broadcast Cross-Ownership rule is necessary to protect diverse ownership of the small number of local news outlets. The Local Television (duopoly) rule, the Dual Network rule, and strong radio ownership limits are essential to protect domination of the airwaves by even fewer entities. A free, DIVERSE press is the key to democracy.